

Draft revised tables of maximum fares

This appendix sets out some alternative tables of maximum fares which all provide an increase to the existing fare tariff.

Six alternative fare options have been drafted and details are as follows:

Version 0 – Sets out East Devon District Council's existing table of maximum fares. The option is available to retain the existing table of maximum fares as it stands and make no variation.

Version 1 – This alternative table of maximum fares retains the existing fare structure of calculating the mileage by having an initial flag drop fare followed by a unit charge per distance calculated in fractions of a mile. Version 1 effects an increase of approximately 2.5% to Tariff 1 with more substantial increases to Tariffs 2 and 3, with a 6% increase to Tariff 2 (evenings and Sunday) and 4% increase to Tariff 3 (Bank Holidays).

Version 2 – This alternative table of maximum fares retains the existing fare structure of calculating the mileage by having an initial flag drop fare followed by a unit charge per distance calculated in fractions of a mile. Version 2 effects a more substantial increase of approximately 10% to Tariff 1 with a 6% increase to Tariff 2 (evenings and Sunday) and 4% increase to Tariff 3 (Bank Holidays).

Versions 3-6 – These alternative tables of maximum fares move away from the existing fare structure. They retain a flag drop fare (a fixed cost for an initial distance of ½ mile/800 yards) but instead of the flag drop fare being followed by a unit charge per distance (calculated in fractions of a mile) that varies for each Tariff, it is instead followed by a fixed unit charge of 35p for each Tariff. The fares are instead increased for Tariffs 2 and 3 by changing the distance travelled per 35p unit charge rather than the unit charge itself. For example, in Version 3, following the flag-drop, you would pay 35p to travel each 222 yards on Tariff 1, 35p to travel each 183 yards on Tariff 2 and 35p to travel 157 yards on Tariff 3. Rather than increasing the unit charge for Tariffs 2 and 3, you are instead decreasing the distance travelled. The advantage of moving to this fare structure is that it allows incremental equal percentage fare increases to each Tariff while still rounding figures to 5 or 10 pence. To achieve this, the distances for which each 35 pence unit charge is calculated are no longer fractions of a mile and are instead expressed solely as yards.

Version 3 – reflects the new fare structure with a percentage increase to all fare tariffs of approximately 2%

Version 4 – reflects the new fare structure with a percentage increase to all fare tariffs of approximately 3%

Version 5 – reflects the new fare structure with a percentage increase to all fare tariffs of approximately 4%

Version 6 – reflects the new fare structure with a percentage increase to all fare tariffs of approximately 5%
